

Capitol Hill

The mile high locale of the Colorado State Capitol was once the neighborhood of Denver's wealthiest residents. By the close of the twentieth century, the area had evolved into an exciting blend of past and present with classic century-old mansions and contemporary town homes and apartment buildings existing side by side. From the historic Molly Brown house to the boldly contemporary Art Museum Residences, Capitol Hill is an exuberant residential, governmental and commercial center with an array of museums, cafes, clubs, galleries, coffeehouses and shops.

The history of the Capitol Hill neighborhood encompasses the history of a neighborhood as well as the location of Colorado's most important structure, the State Capitol. For 150 years Capitol Hill has played an important role in the history of the Centennial State. Today, the Capitol with its famous gold dome proudly stands high above downtown Denver and the thriving neighborhood that grew up around it, Capitol Hill. More than just the place where laws are made, Colorado's capitol building is a celebration of the state's history, with innumerable artworks and artifacts that tell the story of the Centennial State.

Located in the city and county of Denver, the Capitol Hill neighborhood is bounded by Broadway, Downing Street, Colfax Avenue, and Seventh Avenue.

Recreation

- Civic Center Park
- Congress Park
- Cheesman Park
- Governor's Park

Art/Culture

- History Colorado Center
- Byers-Evans House Museum
- Denver Art Museum
- Clyfford Still Museum
- Firehouse Station No. 1
- People's Fair
- Counterterrorism Education Learning Lab (CELL)

Schools

- Dora Moore Elementary (ECE – 8)
- Morey Middle School (6 – 8)
- East High School (9 – 12)