

Hilltop & Crestmoor

An enclave of architectural charm and diversity, the side-by-side neighborhoods of Hilltop and Crestmoor offer beautiful yards, large lots and abundant trees. The neighborhoods feature English tudors, 2-story colonials and Georgians, as well as, luxurious custom homes. Three parks grace the neighborhoods. Home buyers are drawn to the lifestyle, fine public schools and proximity to downtown Denver and Cherry Creek. It is easy to understand why Hilltop and Crestmoor are considered to be two of the most sought-after communities in Denver. Crestmoor Neighborhood is tucked between Hilltop, and Lowry neighborhoods and consists of sizable ranch style homes toward the Southern edge and victorian and tudors toward the older Northern edge. Although, this is all changing with the construction of larger contemporary homes and pop-tops that are dotting the neighborhood. The neighborhood itself consists almost entirely of single family, detached homes on quiet winding streets. Of course its central location allows for convenient access to Denver's major attractions. Hilltop offers beautiful yards, large lots, abundant trees, and an enclave of architectural diversity. The neighborhood features recently constructed custom homes, English Tudors, traditional two-stories, a few mansions, and several modern pop-tops.

Located in the City and County of Denver, the Hilltop and Crestmoor neighborhoods are bound by 6th Avenue, Alameda, Monaco Parkway, and Colorado Boulevard
